LOCAL AND PERSONAL

PREMIUMS DRAW CROWD

Hondo's Trades Day was held at College Square Wednesday afternoon, December 9, with the bystanders anxious to draw the lucky numbers for the last time this year. A fair sized crowd was present in spite of recent rains making some roads difficult to travel.

A few minutes before the scheduled hour of 3 P. M. Master of Ceremonies W. N. Saathoff began his repartee at the expense of local people and impressed upon the listeners the importance and the success of the Trades Day. On the hour the drawing took place with rapid dispatch as no numbers were called twice. People were present with long strings of tickets and premiums were soon in the hands of the winners, as follows:

First, the cow, by Benny Oefinger; second, the hog, by Charlie Leinweber; third, pen of chickens, by Miss Pauline Graff; fourth, basket of groceries, donated by the Red & White Store, Ed. Meister, fifth, bucket of paint and brush donated by the Alamo Lumber Company, Mrs. Walter Grell; sixth, a $1.00 purchase of any product of the Gulf Refining Company, donated by M. F. Schweers, Mrs. Fletcher Davis; seventh, a wash and grease job donated by Joe Meyer, Ben Riff; eighth, surprise package donated by E. E. Leinweber Company, Miss Irene Schuehle; ninth, $25.00 on the purchase of a new Chevrolet car donated by Dillon Chevrolet Co., E. Buxton.

The next Trades Day will be held Wednesday, January 13, 1932. There should be a great many tickets in evidence after the Christmas shopping.

The talented artists of Hondo are putting our little city in the limelight of agreeable publicity with their radio auditions, presentations before musical clubs and winning prizes in musical contests, and now added to the list of achievements is that of the young Misses Milton Marie and Billy Merritt. These talented dancers will be presented with a group of twenty dancers of like age on the stage of the RKO-Majestic Theatre in San Antonio during all of Christmas week. They will wear charming costumes and with their dancing versatility should draw a large Hondo following to the theatre at that time. Billy and Milton Marie are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Merritt and are students of the Bonner Studios of Dancing in San Antonio.

Among those who attended the Missionary Zone meeting in Sabinal one day last week were Rev. and Mrs. E. W. Dechert, Mrs. F. Stiegler, Mrs. Jacob Schweers, Mrs. T. J. Wiemers, Mrs. Geo. H. Wiemers and Mrs. L. H. Heyen, all of New Fountain; Rev. and Mrs. P. E. Lancaster, Mrs. J. G. Newton, Mrs. J. R. Chancey, Mrs. J. A. Horger, Mrs. Earl Boon, Mrs. D. H. Fly, Mrs. T. C. Barnes and Mrs. A. H. Schweers of Hondo.

Messrs. Milton Rath, Herman Fingler and Ralph de Montel attended a show in San Antonio the past week.

SAMUEL M. ROSENTHAL, EDITOR AND PUBLISHER OF THE NORRISTOWN (PA.) REGISTER, SAYS:

"When business conditions are not up to standard, merchants have a tendency to experimentation with retailing.

"They begin to doubt whether or not newspaper advertising brings results. The 'schemers' come into their own.

"New versions of trading stamps, coupon schemes, 'plans' for merchandising that mostly bring net revenue only for the promoters all are resurrected, and because many men who are in business today did not encounter these schemes a quarter of a century ago, they fall for them.

"Thus, under present conditions, while the experienced merchant maintains the equilibrium of his business by sticking to PROVEN methods of advertising, adjusting his use of the newspapers to changed merchandising conditions, others are 'sowing' their advertising funds in the rocky, infertile soil of fly-by-night advertising.

"If the smaller merchant will take the trouble to observe the course followed by the large department and specialty stores, both in the large cities and the smaller communities, he will find that newspaper advertising continues to be the mainstay of merchandising. He will find that even when business is off, the stores that stick to KNOWN methods of advertising are doing business WHILE OTHERS ARE WONDERING WHERE BUSINESS HAS GONE, AND WEARING OUT THEIR EYESIGHT LOOKING FOR SOME NEW SCHEME TO BRING IT BACK."

ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN CHURCH.

We are in the Advent season, the time of preparation for the happy church festival of Christmas. If ever the world needed the Spirit of Him who was born on this glad Day it is now. There are myriads of opportunities for showing forth the Love of Christ toward our fellowmen. We can and should reflect God's Love to mankind in our love to our neighbor. But the primary gift and blessing of this joyous occasion will ever remain the gift of God to this world in the person of His Son, Who has a message for all ages and Who has a solution to the problems of every people. He alone can satisfy your inmost desires. Once we have opened the "Inn" door into our hearts and say "there is room for Him", then only can we properly observe the true spirit of Christmas giving. "We love Him because He first loved us."

Advent is a season of preparation. Take advantage of it and attend church services. "Make straight the way" for the Coming of the Lord. Then will Christmas be a real joy and a real blessing to you.

St. Paul's church has German services Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock. There will be a night service also in English beginning at 7:00 o'clock. Please note the time.

The Sunday school will meet at 9:15 and the Bible school at that time also. Recently a secretary, Milton Mechler, was appointed and a regular report is read each Sunday.

THE SIN OF MADELON CLAUDET.

Parents may bring their children as our GUESTS Monday night. We are willing to admit all children under 12 FREE in order that parents might see "The Sin of Madelon Claudet." Here is one of the most soul-stirring pictures of mother-love the talking screen has shown since "Madame X." You'll love it! It is introducing to the screen one of America's greatest stage stars, Helen Hayes, Sunday and Monday, December 13th-14th, Sunday at 3:00 and 7:30 and Monday at 7:30.

For Hemstitching see Mrs. R. W. Speece at residence opposite north-west corner of courthouse.

BAPTIST NOTES.

Christmas is now almost universal in the air as well as on the air. It is hoped that all are giving place to the Christmas spirit in their hearts. The Baptists are preparing to celebrate the gracious spirit of the season by giving a special musical program on Sunday evening, Dec. 20, at 7 o'clock, to which the Community is most cordially invited. We hope to make the occasion inspiring, pleasing and informing. There will be some thirty voices in the Chorus. Let no one interested forget the hour if you desire a delightful and fraternal experience. At the Baptist church, 7 P. M., Dec. 20th.

On next Sunday, the 13th inst., our regular services will be held, beginning with the Bible school at 10 A. M. Our friends who are not connected with some other school are most cordially invited to join with us in this most important work. At the eleven o'clock hour, the Pastor will speak on Friendship. Both as it relates to our fellowman and also to our Creator. Come, you will find help and also inspiration for the Christmas season. At 7 o'clock P. M. the subject for discussion will be: "What answer will your heart give to the voice of God?" He is calling you. His voice rings out into all the earth, and he has a message for everyone. Better come out. You might find the help you most need. Life is swiftly passing and its most sacred opportunities are slipping away, never to return.

DRILL DON'T BROADCAST OATS.

By L. A. Hawkins

Agriculture Extension Department
International Harvester Company.

Too many acres of oats in the Corn Belt are sown broadcast. It is impossible to broadcast seed in such a way as to secure an even stand or to cover the seed a uniform depth. Just how much this affects the yield depends upon the season. If the weather conditions are favorable, broadcasted oats will yield about as much as drilled oats. If the weather conditions are unfavorable there is a difference of four or five bushels in favor of drilled oats. Sometimes this difference is as great as 10 bushels per acre.

Drilling is better than broadcasting because: the seed bed receives better preparation; seed is evenly distributed; it is placed down in moist soil and if the weather is dry when the oats are planted this makes a great difference in germination. Less seed is required; the crop ripens uniformly and the yield is greater.

Experimenters at the low, Experiment Station found a difference in yield of eight bushels per acre in favor of drilled oats; at the Illinois Experiment Station, a difference of five bushels per acre; and at the Ontario Experiment Station, a difference of four bushels per acre.

If there is abundant rain, especially after seeding, the difference is reduced. When oats are drilled the seeds are placed down in moist dirt, where they sprout well and the root system becomes firmly established. This well-established root system helps in case freezing weather comes after the oats are up.

Most people sow from two to three bushels of seed per acre. If seed is large it may be necessary to sow more than this.

A good yield is necessary to make oat crop profitable and we should do all possible to give the crop a good start.

Shun idleness—it is the rust that attaches itself to the most brilliant metals.

INTO THE FIRE.

By Glory Brumby.

Sylvia Hilden reclined on the lounge. Soon it would be time to put fresh flowers in the silver vase on the breakfast-nook table. She and her husband would be there. After the coffee he would wipe his mouth, fold his napkin and amble his way to the comfortable leather chair at one corner of the living room mantelpiece. How she had come to hate that chair. It was in her enemy he would reach out in her enemy hand to her other hand. A five foot shelf of books that stood above the mantelpiece. Having selected a book, Norman Hilden would withdraw into himself or rather into the book and Sylvia might as well have been alone on a South Sea island. That bookshelf was no friend of hers. No, she would not endure it any longer. Tonight she would get it out with her husband. "I want to spend my whole life looking into the open covers of a book. I want to see a man's features before I grow old," and as she frowned her sensitive little mouth gave a nervous quiver. "I'll have it out of him after dinner."

That evening Sylvia prepared a special dinner. When she and her husband came up on the stairs to her little room, Norman thrust. Norman Hilden was a very ordinary man. At least he appeared so to Sylvia now. When he took the commuters train to town he bargained days the car was uncomfortably jammed with others just like him, men working in harness to support the butcher, the baker and the candle maker. And Sylvia knew that hundreds of wives just like her would shortly peck hundreds of husbands just like him on their tired brow before sitting down to air the grievances of the day.

During the three courses of the evening meal Sylvia was silently preparing for the onslaught.

The phone rang and Norman rose to answer it. "Thanks awfully, but Sylvia and I rarely go out of an evening. We're a pair of homebodies, you know." Never before had Sylvia resented her husband's answering the phone, but tonight it exasperated her. She retained her composure with an effort. "That Phillips?" she inquired. "Yes, wanted us to go and see that fool play 'The Heart that Throbbled' at Seal's, but I knew you'd hate it." Sylvia boiled over. "How come?" she questioned sharply. "What makes you so sure that I should hate a little diversion?" Norman's features took on an expression of amused tolerance. "Why, dear, haven't we been contented here with your rag rug, the radio and the books," and he patted her arm indulgently. That didn't weaken Sylvia's power. You selfish man-thing," she blazed. "Wouldn't you do something to please me for a change? Night after night I've sat watching you poke your face into the leaves of some old book, and you've taken it for granted that it was my supremest pleasure. I tell you, Norman, these years of frustration and ennui infinite have made me think things, and I have become solidly convinced that God did not join me for keeps to a five foot shelf of books. I'm going right over to Sally Phillips' right now to get that fool heart throb."

"You're crazy, Sylvia." The word hurt, but she stuck her ground and soon as pained glass door clanked dejectedly behind her.

Finally, Harold Manson, a smart attorney, who was just lovely to ladies intervened and juggled the cards so that Sylvia got the five and bath at Violetdale and Norman the five foot shelf of books. Everybody got something, including the adept attorney.

For months Sylvia struggled to create a satisfactory social environment, but so long had she been under man's management that she felt really like a slave who didn't want to be free.

Stephen Marcus found her and successfully drew her out of obscurity and her more mature self responded in him. The scientific young farmer talked honey and roses and broody hens and nice vegetables to her and soon Sylvia was on her way to his farm in New Jersey.

The honeymoon had been romantic if not passionate, and Stephen's blue eyes met her eyes of brown across his dining room table. Sylvia was sure that this marriage had indeed been made in heaven. After dinner she was just about to flop into the peacefulness of a large chintz covered chair when her eyes alighted on a familiar object above the brick mantelpiece. A chill ran through her whole being and her head ached. Stephen following her glance reached up for one of the books. "Ford of reading, dear?" he asked tenderly, and Sylvia thought she would faint.

"I just bought that shelf of books for you from a chap who had given up housekeeping. Said a bachelor had no use for books and as I was soon to be tied up I gave him a ten spot for the whole set. A book's a fine thing for a long evening."

KINDLY TAKE NOTICE.

I take this means of advising my neighbors, friends and the public that I have leased the hunting privileges on my Hondo pasture known as part of Henry Rothe Ranch, about 15 miles North of Hondo; and hereby advise all to stay out of this pasture, for trespassing will be rigidly enforced.

Respectfully,
JOHN ZUBERBUER.

ONE OF LIFE'S LITTLE TRAGEDIES.

From The Owl.

Tabby Gray, the cat, lay asleep on the doorstep in the sun. She had encircled herself with her tail in the most comfortable way, her two little white fore paws being gathered under her chin. Now and then she opened her sleepy lids and winked a little. It was very pleasant.

Presently a sound broke the stillness. Tabby lifted her head and pricked up her pretty gray ears. She saw nothing. She settled her head upon her paws again and was just about to take a "snooze" when that strange sound came again. She got up, stretched herself and noiselessly made her way to the lily pond. Yes, the noise was more plainly heard there. She sniffed the air, then looked down into the lily pond. Suddenly a queer animal thrust itself to the edge. Two long, dark feelers waved about in the air for a moment. Its body was bristling with points and knobs, with hideous legs flying in all directions. It had a row of uneven teeth, opening and shutting like a vise. It crawled over the edge and lay still. Tabby drew back at a safe distance and watched the creature. It did not move. She crept a little nearer. Finally she reached it. She touched its hard shell with her paw, still no movement.

"What is that thing?" she thought, "and where did it come from?"

She tried another paw and another. The creature moved a bit, waved its feelers toward Tabby, but no more.

"Humph, you're a funny creature," commented Tabby.

She boxed its ears, or the place where they ought to be, with her soft paw. The boxing continued, first with one paw then the other. Tabby had not noticed that "the thing" had opened its mouth, and during her boxing she missed the ears and hit its mouth. Instantly the mouth closed and Tabby was a prisoner. She uttered a scream of pain. Then a peculiar dance began, more a jig than a waltz. Crying with horror, Tabby began to run and jump and making such havoc that at last someone heard the noise and came to poor Tabby's rescue.

For days Tabby went limping about, scarcely able to eat her meals. She never went near the lily pond again for fear of encountering strange animals.

New Chevrolets Now Displayed Aid Employment Throughout U. S.

Above: Special Sedan
Right: Head-on View

Chevrolet's new car for 1932, embodying silent Synchro-Mesh transmission in combination with selective steering wheeling as standard equipment at no extra cost, and practically every modern automotive advance of recent years is now displayed at dealer showrooms throughout the country.

While remaining in the price class in which it won world leadership this year, the new 1932 models offer features heretofore considered exclusive to the high price field, as well as a new front end mounting never before known on any car.

Called "The Great American Value for 1932," the line offers in support of its slogan a twenty per cent increase in power, faster acceleration, top speeds of 65 to 70 miles an hour, new styling, modern streamlined bodies with a modern stream-lined, down-draft carburetion, super-balanced crankshaft, finger-adjustable front seat adjustment and many other refinements over the 1931 models, which, from the standpoint of public acceptance, were the most successful in the history of the company.

Twenty standard and de luxe models are in the new line, of which the Special Sedan, pictured above, is the aristocrat. The lower view shows the new front end and the massive, powerful appearing hood enclosing the improved engine.

In addition to interest centering on the cars themselves, the announcement at this time has national significance in that activity brought on production of the new cars is expected, at conservative estimates, to add materially to the earnings of 200,000 people throughout the country just before the holiday season and before the severe winter season sets in.

The company's 21 domestic plants are busy producing cars as fast as precision manufacturing limits will permit so that deliveries may be made with the least possible delay. More than 30,000 of the new cars already have been built for dealers' showrooms, and more than that quantity are expected to roll off the assembly lines during the present month.

The new car is the first in the low-price field to offer the combination of silent Synchro-Mesh transmission with selective free wheeling as standard equipment at no extra cost. A control button on the instrument panel enables the driver to use the free wheeling device only when he desires, and he is thus able to utilize the full braking power of the engine when desired.

The front end offers a radically changed appearance, with a new type radiator, a radiator grille built integral on all models, a double tie-bar arching gracefully between the fenders, on which are mounted bullet-shaped headlamps and a trumpet-type horn just beneath the left headlamp. All models have adjustable hood ports chrome plated on all the sport and de luxe models, and all have cowl ventilators controlled from the driver's seat.

With the new streamlined bodies, the external sun visor has been eliminated, and its purpose is now served by an internal visor adjustable to any position in front of the driver. The left front window also has an equalizer built in so that the driver may adjust the window with little effort. On the top rail of the instrument panel is a removable ash tray for the convenience of front seat passengers.

Robe rails, silk assist cords, window shades, arm rests and ash trays on foot rests, large door pockets and many other big car refinements are standard with various models in the new line.

The Girls' Glee Club of Hondo High School, accompanied by their Director, Mr. Ed. Armstrong and their sponsors, will drive to San Antonio today where they will present a double program. The first will be at the Harlandale High School in the afternoon and the second concert will be at the State Hospital in the evening. The Glee Club has given programs in many towns and cities in this vicinity and have gained a wide reputation for high class entertainment.

The Hondo Orchestra. The High School Glee Club and The Dancing Class of Mrs. Ed. Armstrong gave a splendid performance at D'Hanis Friday night at the presentation of a program by the St. Anthony Community Club of D'Hanis. Those who attended report two delightful plays, entertaining songs and orchestral renditions and charming dances by the talented little folks of the dancing class. Quite a number of Hondo people motored over for the program.

COLONIAL COVERINGS.

Herbert Endicott is murdered at 7:00—brought to life again at 7:45. Who is guilty of this double crime? Trade persons are suspected in this story. "Murder by the Clock" showing at the Colonial Theatre Saturday.

Heading the program at the Colonial starting Sunday is "The Sin of Madelon Claudet" with a cast that includes Helen Hayes, Lewis Stone, Neil Hamilton, Robert Young, Cliff Edwards, Jean Hersholt, Marie Prevost, Karen Morley and others. The story is one of tremendous emotional sweep, depicting the melodramatic career of a woman who sinks to the lowest depths for the sake of her child. The nature of the plot leaves room for an adroit blending of romance and the extremes of comedy and tragedy. Cliff Edwards and Marie Prevost provide the laughs in the picture.

Greta Garbo soars to fresh heights of dramatic achievement in "Susan Lennox", which opens at the Colonial Thursday and Friday. This picture has been billed here before but was not shown. Clark Gable plays opposite Garbo and offers a magnificent performance. The story is of a Swedish girl who rises to fame and wealth. Others in the cast are Jean Hersholt, John Miljan, Alan Hale, Hale Hamilton and Cecil Cunningham.

The people of the Methodist church and Hondo in general were treated to a delightful musical program Friday evening, December 4, when a group of about twenty young people from the Methodist Home at Waco gave an entertainment at the local Methodist church. Everyone who attended reported a pleasant performance. The young people were taken into the homes of the good people of the Methodist church and made to feel at ease by their gracious hospitality. From here the group went on to Sabinal Saturday and on to Uvalde where they gave their program.

Following the first and only frost so far this season on the morning of the 4th instant, there has been considerable drizzly, showery weather. Something over two and a half inches of rain has fallen and the soil is soaked with sufficient moisture to help oats and improve plowing conditions. A heavy rain is needed, however, to replenish stock water in the tanks.

V. A. Crow announces the addition of new Optometry equipment to his laboratory and will be glad to show any one interested his equipment for ministering to those with failing or defective eyesight. Mr. Crow will fit your eyes scientifically and thereby save you of possible mistakes in selecting your eye-glasses.

Probably the finest trophy of the hunting season so far was a 13-prong buck which fell to Ed. Connevey's luck a few days ago. The buck dressed 118 pounds, the same as one recently killed by Dr. O.B. Taylor, but has the finest set of antlers so far secured locally this season.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex L. Haby of Rio Medina paid our office a pleasant visit today and renewed for one year to this paper. Mrs. Haby showed us soething unique and beautiful in baskets made from pine combs and needles, which were sent to her by a friend in Alabama.

Walter A. Mask has sold his blacksmith business to Frank Westfall, who has taken charge of the shop on Harper Avenue, and has retired from the blacksmith business. Mr. Mask expects to rent out his town residence and move back to his first love--the farm.

Ben Wiemers bagged a 6-point buck a few days ago. This is Mr. Wiemer's third consecutive buck for the past three consecutive seasons, having killed one each year for three years. He is going to try to break his own record by getting his limit this season.

Mrs. C. J. Schuehle sends the paper this week to her son, Otis, at Corpus Christi.

DIED.
Mrs. Cathleen R. Petty, nee James, died in San Antonio Saturday, Dec. 5, 1931, and was buried in the Oakwood cemetery of Hondo, Sunday afternoon, Dec. 6th. Funeral services were held at the Horger funeral parlor with Rev. R. W. Merrill of the local Baptist church officiating. The deceased was born April 4, 1876 to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E.M. James and had attained the age of 57 years at the time of her death. She is survived by her husband and several sons and daughters who mourn her passing. A large number of relatives and friends of San Antonio were present for the funeral.

TO MY PATRONS
I have sold my blacksmith business and good will to Frank Westfall who will continue the same at the old stand. In retiring from the blacksmith business, I wish to thank the public for the generous patronage given me in the past and to kindly solicit your continued favors to my successor.

MRS. L. BARRIENTES & SON

Medina County, Texas, near the present location of Medina Dam, in the year 1898. His childhood days were spent on the ranch where his sporting activities consisted chiefly in hunting. Five months during each year he attended a country school, riding seven miles on horseback each morning and returning in the afternoon. Later he attended Peacock Military Academy in San Antonio for a year.

At this time his family moved to Hondo and Mr. Gilliam entered the local high school where he remained until his senior year. He then went to the Columbia Preparatory School at Washington, D. C. While attending this school he received an appointment to the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland. After passing the entrance examination he was ordered to the Naval Academy in June, 1917.

There followed four years of hard work and intensive training, three months of each year being spent at sea, after which he graduated and was commissioned an ensign in the regular navy. During his four years at the academy, he played considerable football and lacrosse. His enthusiasm for actual participation in football was only slightly dampened by receiving a broken shoulder on two different occasions.

Most of Mr. Gilliam's commission service while in the navy was spent aboard the U. S. S. Texas. During his last year aboard the Texas he was No. 1 spotter in addition to being in charge of turret No. 1 and torpedo officer of the ship. Mr. Gilliam says that he enjoyed navy life very much, saw some very interesting service and received training which has been invaluable to him in his business life. The principal job of an officer in the navy is the training and development of young men and this phase of his work has also proven of great value to him since leaving the navy. He resigned his commission in the navy in June, 1924.

Immediately upon leaving the navy he returned to Texas. He called upon Mr. E. B. Neiswanger at San Benito who gave him a job in the La Palma power plant. He remained on this job until early in 1925 when he was sent to Mission to install two oil engines. In August of the same year he was appointed manager of the Harlingen retail ice property. In January, 1926, he was appointed local manager at Taft and about a year later was transferred to the local managership at Falfurrias. Each of these two properties had just been purchased at the time. In 1928 Mr. Gilliam was again transferred, this time as local manager at Robstown. He remained here until 1929 when he was appointed local manager of the Corpus Christi properties. In April of this year he was elevated to the position of manager of the Gulf Coast district upon the death of E. H. Eldridge, former district manager. Mr. Gilliam's favorite hobby is hunting, preferably deer hunting. In music his preference is anything played by a good military band. He likes to play baseball, but as a spectator he prefers a good football game. Although he didn't say so, we surmise that his greatest delight would be to watch the Navy trounce the Army in their annual football classic. From The Pentagon.

DAYS OF YOUTH.

From the Owl.

Mr. Brown, a middle-aged bachelor set on the veranda and dreamed of his youthful deeds. His meditations were suddenly interrupted by the arrival of a young salesman.

"Good afternoon, sir, pardon me for intruding."

"Er—hello!" Mr. Brown came back to earth.

"I have here some excellent hair tonic. It brings color and beauty back to unsightly, gray, faded or bleached hair; it removes dandruff; it starts new growth of hair; it beautifies the hair beyond description—it makes it soft and curly, and brings to it a most attractive and shining luster."

"But my dear young man, I have used 'er of such hair tonic; my—"

"That's what so many people think. They do not take time to look at their reflections. Do you look every morning to see if your hair is graying? No, of course not. That would be foolish indeed if you used this splendid tonic."

"But—"

"Now, my dear sir, your hair used to be beautiful; it is still more lustrous than that of most people of your age. But, my dear friend, I notice that some of your hair is taking a grayish tint. Just one bottle of this wonderful tonic will make your hair assume its natural color. You should keep on using it, however to keep your hair attractive."

The salesman continued coaxing and tried hard to make a sale. Every time Mr. Brown tried to talk he was cut short by the salesman's renewed praises of the tonic.

Finally the victim seemed to become frantic. He looked around to see if anyone was observing them. On finding that there was not, he reached up and removed his hair. The astonished eyes of the young salesman saw only a shining pate.

When Mr. Brown had replaced his toupee, a very embarrassed young man was on his way to resign his position as hair tonic salesman.

The nicotine-sulphate treatment is one of the best ways to control lice in poultry flocks including a large number of pullets, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Paint the top of the roosts with liquid nicotine sulphate in late afternoon just before the birds go to roost. The fumes will kill the lice during the night. The use of sodium-flouride dust for controlling lice on poultry necessitates handling the pullets. This frightens them and may check egg production.

SILVERFISH IN HOUSES.

The silverfish—that shiny, silvery insect seen in houses when books, papers, clothing, or other articles are moved suddenly—has become pestiferous in recent years, says entomologists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, probably because of increased heat in apartments and houses. Silverfish are especially fond of starchy food, and eat such things as book bindings, glazed paper, starched cloth, "sized" silk and rayon, and wall paper. They are nocturnal in their habits and the housewife may not notice them. They collect in summer in the basement and become active in the fall when the fires are started. These pests usually cause trouble in libraries, storage rooms, and attics, damaging articles that are packed away in drawers, closets, and book-cases. The entomologists say that a powdered mixture of 12 parts of wheat flouride and 100 parts of wheat flour, or a thin paste of one-half to three-fourths ounce of white arsenic, 1 pint of wheat flour, and water, will control silverfish. Put the poison in out-of-the-way places—on shelves, behind books, back of mantels, and on the bottom of drawers and storage boxes.

CURING HIDES AND SKINS.

Promptness, thoroughness, and cleanliness are the three essentials in curing hides and skins, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Remove and salt the hide or skin as soon as the animal heat has escaped from it. In hot weather prompt salting is absolutely necessary. Use plenty of salt—at least 2 pounds of salt for every 3 pounds of hide or skin—and cover every part of the flesh side, smoothing out folds and wrinkles. Keep the hides and skins clean and use clean salt. Many defects in hides and skins result from the growth of bacteria and molds that feed on dirt, dung, blood, meat, or fat. If salt must be used more than once, clean it as well as possible. Let the hides and skins cure in a place that is cool and watertight. Don't cure them on a dirt floor. Calfskins need from 14 to 28 days to cure and cattle hides from 30 to 60 days. Sheepskins heat quickly and should be marketed within 5 or 6 days.

Christmas Dainties

By BETTY BARCLAY

SURPRISE your family and your guests this Christmas by serving one or two "different" dishes for dinner. Christmas Dinners are so similar that a novelty will be appreciated. Here are a few suggestions that you will find well worth considering:

Cranberry Mold

1 package lemon gelatin
1 1/2 cups boiling water
Juice 1/2 lemon
1/2 cup celery, finely cut.
1/2 cup canned shredded pineapple
1/2 cup thick cranberry sauce, sweetened

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Chill. When slightly thickened, add lemon juice, celery, pineapple and cranberry sauce. Turn into mold. Chill until firm. Unmold. Garnish with mayonnaise. Serves 6, on same plate with fowl.

Roast Fowl with Orange Juice Basting

Chicken or other fowl

2 cups salt pork
Orange juice
Lemon juice

Put 2 strips of fat salt pork over breast of firm, plump chicken. Cook in roaster without cover in hot oven (450° F.) until meat begins to brown. Reduce heat to moderate oven (350° F.) and cook until meat is tender, basting every 15 minutes with orange juice. Add 2 teaspoons lemon juice to each cup orange juice used. Amount of orange juice will vary with size of chicken and length of cooking time, which should average 20 minutes per pound without dressing or longer with dressing. Liquid in bottom of roaster may also be used for basting.

The fruit juices give a delicious flavor to the skin but do not change the flavor of the chicken meat, although they help to keep it moist and tender. This method may be used for basting other fowl.

A garnish of orange slices is an excellent accompaniment for a fowl roasted in this manner.

Raspberry Junket with Raspberry Jam

1 package raspberry junket
1 pint milk
Raspberry jam

Prepare raspberry junket according to directions on package. Garnish ice-cold raspberry junket with raspberry jam.

Lemon Mince Meat

(Makes 2 pints or filling for 2 medium sized pies; or 12 individual pies)

1 cup raisins
3 cups finely chopped apple
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1/2 cup candied orange peel or orange marmalade
1/2 cup lemon juice
2 cups sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 teaspoon each of cloves and ginger

Scald, drain and chop the raisins. Mix all ingredients. Seal in sterilized jars. When making into pies add to each pint 1/4 cup melted butter. This is a simpler and more wholesome combination than many mince meats.

A unique Christmas dessert is a Lemon Mince Meat Sundae, made by serving this mince meat as a sundae sauce over vanilla ice cream. A pint jar of this mince meat makes a delightful Christmas gift, if wrapped attractively in cellophane paper, and decorated with Christmas seals.

Coffee for Christmas Eve

Are the carol singers dropping in to rest, warm themselves and perhaps sample your cooking this Christmas Eve? If so, you'll want coffee—good, hot and strong. As a matter of fact, coffee will be appreciated by the adults of the family after the tree is decorated—even though friends do not appear. Serve it piping hot, for nothing is more discouraging than lukewarm coffee. Boil it, percolate or make it by the drip method—as you prefer. Excellent coffee for large groups may be made by boiling it in a large receptacle. Put the ground coffee in a loose mesh bag in the water and bring to a boil. Immediately reduce the heat and steep for five minutes. Use a heaping tablespoon of coffee for each cup—with an extra tablespoon for each six cups.

Work Weary "NERVES"

Do they make you Restless, Cranky, Tired, Sleepless, Dyspeptic, Head-achy? Do they spoil your pleasure and interfere with your work?

Tens of thousands have found a way to get relief from over-worked nerves—a way so simple, so pleasant, so low in cost, that we are constantly receiving letters that say, "If I had only found Effervescent Nerve Tablets sooner." Simon Brandt writes:

"I was very nervous from over-work. I couldn't sleep well, appetite was poor, and I felt weak for a long time.

"Used Dr. Miles' Nerveine and now feel fifteen years younger and I am working the same as I did before—fourteen to fifteen hours daily.

"Sorry I did not learn about this wonderful medicine sooner as I had tried everything I could hear of, without results, until Dr. Miles' Nerveine put me back on my feet."

When you are nervous, try this—put a Dr. Miles' Effervescent Nerveine Tablet into a glass of water. Watch it bubble up like sparkling spring water—drink it—enjoy the feeling of calm and relaxation that follows.

In Dr. Miles' Effervescent Nerveine Tablets a splendid formula for soothing overworked nerves is combined with bicarbonate of soda and citric acid which tend to correct hyper-acidity—a frequent cause of nervousness.

TEXAS AND TEXANS.

"All Texans for All Texas"

Keeping the Blues Away.

Two thoughts can not occupy the mind at the same time. When the mind is busy engaged with one thing, it has no room for another. If you are busy doing good, your mind will keep busy with good thoughts, but only so long as you refuse to let the bad crowd out the good. Therefore, it pays to keep both body and mind busy all the while in some worthy service even though seemingly little is being accomplished. Most of us are inclined to measure everything by the financial returns and to feel that a thing is worth while only in proportion to the cash it brings in. That is why we become so "depressed" in times like these when we realize so little money for our efforts. Our minds are so centered on the money that we fail to see or think about anything except in money terms and we get blue.

We need a new viewpoint. After all, the real measure of success of any life is in the good that life is to the world and not in its accumulation of wealth. Get this thought firmly fixed, start about doing the things to make you happy, and fill your mind

so completely with happy thoughts that there will be no room for any thing else. There never was a better time for doing good, or rendering constructive happiness-bringing service than right now.

Christmas is Near.

This country needs to revise its ideas about Christmas. It should be observed more as a time of reverence and helpfulness and not as an occasion for merry-making. If it is observed as it should be our hearts will be merry enough without artificial stimulation. We don't need to be sad-faced, either, or so pious that it hurts us or others.

Naturally, the season makes or should make us more generous, but gifts measured in terms of their values instead of in terms of love are worth little to either those who receive or give. The largest gifts are not usually the most generous givers—the largest gifts are not always the most appreciated. The Christmas spirit should be characterized more by love than by money.

If there could be enough love in the world there would be more than enough money for all and all suffering and charity would end. We may not be able to bring the world to this thought, but we can at least start with ourselves. It was the Christ thought, and Christmastime is a good time to accept it as our thought.

Honesty in Schools.

Schools that wink at dishonest methods teach dishonesty and are a menace to government. The teachers' convention at Amarillo recently took official recognition of a condition that most people have been hearing about a long while and that the schools must have known about long ago. It denounced in strong terms the practice of hiring football players. Of course, no school, at least yet, openly pays players, but they are paid for work entirely out of proportion to the services they render, and everybody knows that the reason they are hired is that they are wanted as ball players and not as students. It is said that even church schools are guilty of this evasive practice. Perhaps legislative action may be necessary to stop it, but it should be stopped even if the guilty schools have to be closed.

Working Full Time.

The cotton mill in South Dallas is reported to be working 300 employees on full time, night and day, and

is hoping to continue this all winter.

Another Dallas textile mill is employing 430 people five and one-half days

each week. These are signs that the people are gradually increasing their

purchases and turning their money

into sources of industry and trade.

There has been entirely too much

hoarding and too little spending even

on the part of people whose earnings

have not decreased. An idle dollar

is a worthless dollar.

Tourist Travel.

Foreign tourist travel has decreased 20 per cent this year. There has been a decided drop too in the

amounts spent by those who have traveled. Travelers have been inclined to see points of interest closer

at home, and in doing so have found

more to interest them in this country

than they had thought could be seen.

They had also found fewer discom-

forts and, for the most part, better

hotel accommodations. American, and especially Texas tourist camps have improved wonderfully in the past few years. It is time now for those who expect tourist business next season to begin their plans for caring for the business. There has been some complaint of high prices in some parts of

Texas, prices out of proportion to the service rendered. It is to the interest of the entire State that tourists be treated fairly. Any extortion, where-

ever practiced, hurts tourist travel

throughout the entire State.

Texas Industries.

There is fine opportunity in Texas for the development of industries from small beginnings. The small towns afford as fine fields for this as the cities. In fact, a close study of the industrial development of the State will reveal that most of the large industries have started in a small way in small cities and towns. Progressive Texans, Inc., through its attention to the fact that there are 114 Texas counties in which there are so few industries that the census bureau did not give their totals, which are below $20,000 annually each.

A serious drawback to development of Texas industries has been the dishonest exploitation of small industrial investors by promoters. Texas Industries, Inc., can do the State a real service by exposing and stopping the parasitic methods that have been so repeatedly and successfully used in Texas.

Washington Bicentennial.

The proposed Washington Bicentennial celebration in 1932, in which all Texas is asked to co-operate, is something unique in celebrations. While public interest will naturally center in Washington, D. C., where the movement started, it is not intended to have any great central position there, but every State, every city, every community in the country is being asked to join in holding local patriotic events to commemorate the life of George Washington and renew a national and local pride in "grateful recognition of the character and the service of America's noblest citizen." The commission suggests public gatherings, pageants, plays, parades, music and art festivals, tableaux and the like, and is glad to assist with plans and directions appropriate to each locality. It will be an opportunity for every place to render its quota of patriotic observance.

State Schools Building.

The University of Texas has completed plans for new buildings to cost about $3,625,000 within the next year, and A. & M. College has started a building program of $1,250,000. These look like big figures, but Texas is doing things in a big way these days.

Creating Local Business.

A Cameron candy company has installed pecan cracking machinery and is employing about 25 workers who assist in manufacturing and distributing pecan candies in surrounding territory. Incidentally, the business is creating a better local pecan market. An Austin baker is buying pecans, employing local people to crack them, and is using them as extensively as possible in his bakery products. If candy makers and bakers generally would do this, the Texas pecan business would develop rapidly. Why not?

Salt Deposits.

Texas has an abundance of salt, but it is a bit hard to buy Texas salt from Texas merchants. The business has not been pushed as it might have been, so sales of Texas salt have lagged. A Houston company now plans development of a huge salt deposit in Harris county and will have the backing of a strong marketing organization.

Working Full Time.

The cotton mill in South Dallas is

reported to be working 300 employees on full time, night and day, and

is hoping to continue this all winter.

Another Dallas textile mill is employ-

ing 430 people five and one-half days

each week. These are signs that the people are gradually increasing their

purchases and turning their money

into sources of industry and trade.

There has been entirely too much

hoarding and too little spending even

on the part of people whose earnings

have not decreased. An idle dollar

is a worthless dollar.

Tourist Travel.

Foreign tourist travel has decreased 20 per cent this year. There has been a decided drop too in the

amounts spent by those who have traveled. Travelers have been inclined to see points of interest closer

at home, and in doing so have found

more to interest them in this country

than they had thought could be seen.

They had also found fewer discom-

forts and, for the most part, better

hotel accommodations. American, and

especially Texas tourist camps have

years. It is time now for those who expect tourist business next season to

begin their plans for caring for the

business. There has been some complaint of high prices in some parts of

Texas, prices out of proportion to the

of the entire State that tourists be treated fairly. Any extortion, where-

ever practiced, hurts tourist travel

throughout the entire State.

IN MEMORY OF OUR DEAR UNCLE, WILLIAM H. NAEGELIN.

A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we loved is still a low,
A place is vacant in the home,
Which never can be filled.

Lonely is the place where he used to roam,
Sad is the thought to think of him,
Uncle who has gone,
He has left to return no more.

How we miss his gentle footsteps,
Each kind and loving word,
No more on earth,
Will his tender voice be heard.

In his silent grave,
Dear Uncle now lies
After fading from earth
As fades the sun's last rays.

Yes dead, do we call him,
Oh, must this be you,
A flower faded, and vanished,
A heart that was tender and true.

Gone but not forgotten,
For all the years to come,
We will live in hopes of meeting,
On the Golden shore above.

Safe in the arms of Jesus,
Safe on his gentle breast,
There by his love o'er shadowed,
Sweetly his soul shall rest.

Safe in the arms of Jesus,
Safe from all corroding care,
Safe from world's temptations,
Sin cannot harm him there.

Peaceful in his silent slumber,
Peaceful in his grave so low,
He no more will join our number,
And no more our sorrows know.

Yet again we hope to meet him,
When the day of life is fled,
And in heaven with joy to greet him
Where no farewell tears are shed.

Joining our hearts with a golden band We'll meet our dear Uncle in heaven
If we remain good Christians,
We know this will come true.

So farewell, dear Uncle,
You have only gone before.
For if we are but faithful,
We shall reach the golden shore.

How to train BABY'S BOWELS

Babies, bottle-fed or breast-fed, with any tendency to be constipated, would thrive if they received daily half a teaspoonful of this old family doctor's prescription for the bowels.

That is one sure way to train tiny bowels to healthy regularity. To avoid the fretfulness, vomiting, crying, failure to gain, and other ills of constipated babies.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is good for any baby. For this, you have the word of a famous doctor. Forty-seven years of practice taught him just what babies need to keep their little bowels active, regular; keep little bodies plump and healthy. For Dr. Caldwell specialized in the treatment of women and little ones. He attended over 3500 births without loss of one mother or baby.

RESTFUL SLEEP for FRETFUL, FEVERISH CHILD

—With Castoria's regulation.

When your child tosses and cries out in his sleep, it means he is not comfortable. Very often the trouble is that poisonous waste matter is not being carried off as it should be.
Bowels need help—mild, gentle help —but effective. Just the kind Castoria gives. Castoria is a pure vegetable preparation made especially for children's ailments. It contains no harsh, harmful drugs, no narcotics.
Don't let your child's rest—and your own—be interrupted. A prompt dose of Castoria will urge stubborn little bowels to act. Then relaxed comfort and restful sleep! Genuine Castoria always has the name:

Cast H. Fletcher
CASTORIA

DON'T LET THEM FOOL YOU.

Beware of the fellow that tells you he prefers driving a horse and buggy when he goes to see his best girl, and that old "Dobbin" will get him there just as quick as a "31" model automobile. This chap claims that because he has invented a special whip and the superior knowledge he has of driving a horse that he acquires as great speed and gets there as quickly as if he were driving an automobile. This chap is about as modern and truthful as the business college man who claims that with the "old time" system of shorthand he is teaching that he can give you a shorthand course in four months, or a combined course of bookkeeping and shorthand in five months. It is a well-known fact that the authors of the shorthand and bookkeeping system he is teaching recommends from five to seven months be used in completing either of these two courses combined. The five Byrne Commercial Colleges are the only schools in the Southwest permitted to use the Famous Byrne Simplified Shorthand
and Practical Bookkeeping. They are, therefore, the only schools that can give you a complete, thorough, and modern course and save you from three to five months time over that required in other schools teaching other systems. The salary earned in the time the Byrne Colleges save you will more than pay the cost of your entire course to say nothing of the expense of board and room they save you during these three to five months that you would still be going to school, if you were attending another school teaching other systems.
There are over 50,000 former students of Byrne Shorthand and Bookkeeping that will tell you that you should attend a Byrne Commercial College, who hold the exclusive teaching rights of these modern systems, and enjoy the advantages of the Famous Byrne Simplified Shorthand
and Practical Bookkeeping.

As business swings back to normality you are bound to realize that those best trained for modern business will have the first opportunity to get on the pay roll with big business. Those with lesser business training or none at all will have a long wait before they will find satisfactory employment, if ever. Insure yourself against having to remain in the long line of untrained waiting for a position by enrolling now and completing a thorough business course in one of the Byrne Commercial Colleges.

CHURCH WEDDING A PRETTY AFFAIR.

The marriage of Miss Erna Boeck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boeck of Converse, to Alvin Brucks of Hondo was solemnized at the Lutheran church at Cibola Wednesday evening with the Rev. Mr. Kneicker reading the ceremony.

The church was decorated with fest snowball chrysanthemum which were arranged on the altar and prays of smaller flowers were tied to the ends of the pews. Preceding the ceremony, Miss Adelaide Boeck of San Antonio played Handel's "Largo" and the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" for the processional, and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" for the recessional. During the ceremony
"Traumeri" was played softly.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of white satin with a yoke of rose point lace. The skirt was made in tiers which lengthened in back to form a short train. Her tulle veil was caught to a cap of lace with clusters of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses.

Mrs. E. A. Balzen of Hondo was matron of honor, Miss Edna Tess-mann, maid of honor, and the bridesmaid was Miss Emma Brucks. They were dressed in frocks of blue, orchid and pink satin made with draped necklines and long full skirts. Each carried an old fashioned bouquet of roses. Little Calvin Boeck, brother of the bride, was ring bearer, and Lucille Reimann flower girl.

The ceremony was followed by a reception in the home of the bride's parents. Baskets of white chrysanthemums adorned the room where the guests were received by the members of the bridal party and Mr. and Mrs.
C. Boeck. The wedding cake, embossed in silver, formed the centerpiece for the table in the dining room. Supper was served to 150 guests, followed by dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Brucks will be at home in Converse.

QUIHI NOTES.

"Behold, the Lord has proclaimed unto the end of the world. Say ye to the daughter of Zion, behold, thy salvation cometh." Isa. 62, 11.

Sunday morning at 9:30, at Bethlehem Lutheran church, Sunday school and Bible class will be held.
Recitations and songs for the Christmas Eve program will also be rehearsed. All are cordially welcome.

Divine service in the English tongue in Bethlehem Lutheran church begins at 10:30 o'clock A. M.
Please bring your English hymn books to this service. All are cordially welcome at this and all services in this church.

At 2 o'clock P. M. divine service will be held in St. John's Lutheran church of New Fountain. You and your friends are cordially invited to this and all services in this church.

Sunday night at 7 o'clock a splendid musical-literary program will be rendered at Bethlehem Lutheran church by the Quihi Luther League.
The following numbers are listed to be given: Several fine selections by the Quihi church choir; a declamation by Master Louis Poehle; select and interesting readings by Misses Hilda Neumann, Della Saathoff and Anna Loessberg and Mr. Arnold
Reitzer; a selection by the Quihi Male Chorus led by Mr. Oscar Grell; a lecture by the pastor; instrumental selection by Theo. Reitzer and Melvin Balzen, accompanied on the piano by Miss Hilda Mummie; duets selected by Misses Alma Saathoff and Eileen Hartman. A cordial welcome is extended to all to come and hear and enjoy everything that this fine program offers.

Last Thursday afternoon the Ladies' Aid Society of Quihi held its regular bi-monthly meeting in the parish hall. The regular routine business was followed by the reading of an interesting paper by the pastor.
The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows: Mrs.
Jacob Oefinger, president; Mrs. Joe Horn, vice president; Mrs. Arnold Balzen, secretary; Mrs. Ernest Hartman, treasurer. Following adjournment a splendid luncheon was served by Mesdames Ferdinand Mummie, Ernest Hartman and Otto Lindeburg.

BADGERS DEFEAT OWLS.

Starting where they left off last year, defeating Hondo High School, the Baptist Badgers won their initial game of the year last Friday when they downed the Owls 23 to 9.

The Badgers grabbed an early lead and were never headed by the Owls, who were unable to match the short-pass attack of the Baptists. Jones was high point man with 2 tallies while Miller lead the losers with 4 points.

Both teams played ragged ball at times due to it being the first game of the year for the squads. Several new players made their appearance in the game for both the Owls and the Badgers; Pick Bradley being outstanding for the Badgers with his neat passing—even if he did sink a goal in the High School's basket to give the Owls their only points in the third quarter.

Line-ups were:
BADGERS HIGH SCHOOL
Forwards Forwards
Jones Taylor T.
Bradley Schweers
Center Center
Bailey Finger
Guards Guards
Mask Miller
Grant Taylor E.
Subs Subs
Meyer, For. Jones C. For.
Snooks, Guard Crouch, Guard Gooding, For.

Repeating their first victory of the year over the High School, the Badgers again defeated "Dutch" Flory's Owls, Wednesday night, by the score of 19 to 12.

Coch Fluker started his first string men who held the Owls to 3 points in the first half while they rang up a good lead. The entire remaining Badger squad saw action in the last half and showed up well.
Both teams showed better form than in the previous game.

In the second game Wednesday night, the Devine All-Stars trimmed the Yancey High school to the tune of 56 to 25.

The Badgers have a double-header scheduled for Friday night at 7 P. M. playing Knippa in the first game, and meeting the High School in the second game. Both games will be played at the Fair Grounds.
